VOLUNTEERS NEEDED AT HILLCREST RECREATION CENTER

The Hillcrest Recreation Center needs volunteers to help tutor school children one or more days per week from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. It is hoped that people can commit to the same day/time every week to provide consistency for the children. Retired educators can be especially helpful. For more information, contact Sam Williams, Director, Hillcrest Recreation Center, at 202 645-3988, or Linda Jackson, Chair, HCCA Education Committee, at 202 584-3612. The HCCA Education Committee is working with the Recreation Center as they establish/build their tutoring and mentoring program.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Neighbors,

I have identified below issues that impact upon the quality of life within our community and your general piece of mind and serenity. These issues are not the type of matters that politicians like to deal with. They are not sexy and news grabbing issues. They are just basic quality of life issues that cause discontent and frustration within the lives of average people. I am sure that there are other similar type of issues that each of you can identify. This is my list:

- 1) Absence of adequate anti-littering laws in the District which has resulted in DC police officers having no authority or responsibility for taking action to discourage littering and trashing the city.*
- 2) Absence of adequate laws that discourage posting of advertisement signs on city trees and lampposts (see ANC 7B Resolution on Website).*
- 3) Absence of laws/regulations that require police officers to hold persons driving cars, who damage or destroy city and/or homeowner property, financially responsible.*
- 4) Absence of laws that require persons, who abandon cars on city streets, to be held financially responsible for the expense to the city for removing them.*
- 5) Absence of easily enforceable laws that crack down on persons who live in the District but never register their cars in the District.*
- 6) Absence of neighborhood friendly regulations and procedures for Group Homes.*

If any of these matters are of concern to you, I encourage you to contact the Mayor, the City Administrator, and members of the City Council and encourage that they do something to address these voids in city regulations and laws. Also, you can sign up to participate on the HCCA Legislative Committee, which is gearing up to start monitoring the legislation passed by the City Council. You can make a difference if you take a stand!

Sincerely, Vincent Spaulding, President

WHAT'S HAPPENING WITH THE EAST OF THE SOUSA BRIDGE PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE TASK FORCE?

Have you noticed the new countdown pedestrian lights on Pennsylvania Avenue? Seen the activity and clean up around the old Marvin Gardens Apartments? Noticed the new bollards to channelize traffic at Fairlawn Avenue?

These are some of the 2004 accomplishments for the East of the Sousa Bridge Pennsylvania Avenue Task Force. The year 2004 marked a period of transition as the Task Force founders, Donald Murray and Paul Savage, stepped down as Chairs and Howard Ways and Edward Mathis assumed the leadership positions. The Task Force, organized in 2000, is comprised of a group of concerned citizens, property owners, and ANCs from the nine neighborhoods that straddle Pennsylvania Avenue east of the Sousa Bridge to Southern Avenue.

Mayor Anthony A. Williams attended a Task Force meeting in the Spring and new City Administrator Robert Bobb visited the Task Force three times in 2004 to pledge their support to this community effort. The City Administrator, along with Dan Tangherlini (Director of the District's Department of Transportation) announced that approximately $14 million in funding for streetscape improvements has been earmarked. In the Fall of this year, the ground breaking for the new light rail station at Pennsylvania Avenue also occurred.

In 2005, expect to see several long planned projects getting starting or completing construction, including:

- 10 new townhouses by the Marshall Heights Community Development Organization, Inc. and CIH Homes at 2525 Minnesota Avenue SE;
- 10 townhouses by the Anacostia Economic Development Corporation;
- 28 condos by the East of the River Community Development Corporation; and
- Construction of the 34 condos at the Penn Circle Condos (Marvin Gardens Apartments).

Upcoming challenges for the Task Force include getting the RFK access road opened up as a short term solution to routing traffic from the Sousa Bridge to the Whitney Young Bridge to northbound Kennilworth Avenue and solidifying a commitment from the National Capital Revitalization Corporation to implement its feasibility plan for the acquisition and redevelopment of the south side of the 2300 block of Pennsylvania Avenue SE.

To learn more about the Pennsylvania Avenue Task Force and to get involved in one of the key issues (transportation, economic development, or public nuisance crimes) please contact Howard Ways at howardways@hotmail.com or visit the www.hillcrestdc.com.
