In July 2001, the District of Columbia began using a Public Safety Communications Center (PSCC) that greatly improved 911 service for District residents, workers and visitors. Located on McMillan Drive, NW, the PSCC combined state-of-the-art technology with a modern facility to enhance agency coordination and improve employee productivity. For the first time, police and Fire and Emergency Medical Services (FEMS) communications personnel were located in the same facility to more efficiently answer and dispatch calls for service.

On October 1, 2004, management of the PSCC changed from a joint operation of the Metropolitan Police Department (MPDC) and FEMS to a new District of Columbia government agency: the Office of Unified Communications (OUC).

The new agency's responsibilities include all 911 and 311 call-taking, as well as all police, fire and medical dispatching.

OUC operations and services continue to grow. The OUC joined other public safety organizations, such as the DC Emergency Management Agency (DCEMA) in a new state-of-the-art facility called the Unified Communications Center \(UCC\). The center, which opened September 2006, consolidates functions, personnel, equipment and systems. The UCC provides cost benefits from consolidation and improves service delivery and public safety. The UCC facility also provides a safe, high-quality, technologically up-to-date, aesthetically pleasing and functional environment for all call-takers (both emergency and non-emergency) and the service delivery tracking systems required for a unified communication facility.

Happy Mothers' Day

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Neighbors,

As spring comes again to Hillcrest the grass turns a beautiful green and the flowers start to bloom. Our neighbors are out again tending their gardens, cutting their lawns or just enjoying the day. We stop to talk and laugh and I am reminded again how fortunate I am to be part of this community. Hillcrest may be Washington's Best Kept Secret but for the fortunate few who reside here the secret is out. Hillcrest is a neighborhood comprised of colonials, cape cods, ramblers, you name it we have it, no cookie cutter community are we. The diversity of our homes reflect the multiplicity of the people who live in them. This translates to a variety of priorities and ways of achieving them. So what, that's part of the beauty of our community, "viva la difference...but don't let this tear us apart. Lets agree to disagree, but let's not stop there.

We all want to preserve what we have, but change is inevitable. Instead of fearing change, and letting fear and anger divide us, let's endeavor to work together. Lets gather the information we need to make informed decisions about all the proposed changes that will affect our community. Let us work collectively to preserve our way of life, not destroy the essence of our special community. The citizens of Hillcrest have something very special...let's not let that slip away. Enjoy the spring, enjoy our community. Happy Mother's Day!

Karen Lee Williams, President

CASEY TREES SPONSORED TREE PLANTING AT HILLCREST RECREATION CENTER

On Saturday, April 12, 2008 Hillcrest residents and volunteers from all over the city worked with Casey Trees to plant 13 new trees and mulch 15 older trees at the Hillcrest Recreation Center. Even with so many volunteers planting trees is back-breaking work, but the result was well worth the effort. Phil and Mary Hammond did a great job in organizing this event, we want to thank them for their efforts. We all want to thank the 85 volunteers who turned out to help.

Plant a tree in your yard and receive a $50.00 rebate from Casey Trees. For details contact (202) 833-4030 or www.caseytrees.org.
